

NEH Picturing America

School Collaboration Conferences:

Is there one near you?

Picturing America is the focus of local and regional conferences for teachers and librarians sponsored by the National Endowment for the Humanities.

These conferences are being held in the following cities in 2010-11:

Albuquerque, NM

Boston, MA

Fort Worth, TX

Seattle, WA

Asheville, NC

Chapel Hill, NC

New York, NY

Sumter, SC

Boone, NC

Chicago, IL

Philadelphia, PA

Wilmington, NC

Don't see your city listed? See EDSITEMent's Picturing America page for helpful resources.

Eligibility requirements for participation vary. Please contact individual projects for more information.

These conferences provide opportunities for educators who have already received the Picturing America images to

- observe models for teaching American art, history, and culture with the Picturing America portfolio and accompanying Teachers Resource Book;
- explore the value of visual literacy for subjects in the core curriculum; and
- develop individual or team teaching plans.
